FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

Today, on another magnificent summer day, we are privileged to be in God's house to worship Him. He has hereby afforded us one more opportunity to praise and magnify His holy name and to fellowship with each other. He has also permitted us another chance to avoid making this lament found in Jeremiah 8:20 "The harvest is past, the summer is ended, and we are not saved." Our hope in welcoming you here today is that as a result of this worship experience we will all be able to proclaim that "it is well with my soul;" each of us will affirm "this is the Lord; we have waited for him, we will be glad and rejoice in his salvation" Isaiah 25:9

Thought for Today: The Lord calls upon every one of His children to let heaven's light—the light of His own unselfish love— shine out amid the darkness of this degenerate age. If He sees you acknowledge Him as the possessor of yourself and all your possessions, if He sees you use your entrusted means as a faithful steward, He will register your name in the books of heaven as a laborer together with Him, a partner in His great firm, to work in behalf of your fellow men. And joy will be yours in the final day, as it is seen that the means wisely used in helping others has caused through you thanksgiving to God.—The Review and Herald, December 8, 1896. – Christian Service, Page 299
